The Maine election resulted in a triumph for the Republicans. From the official returns it is quite probable that Davis is elected Governor by the people. Senator Blaine in a speech said the Republicans have a large majority in the House of Representatives, eighteen Senators beyond a doubt, and may have twenty out of the thirty-one that constitute that body; and it is predicted that the returns coming in from the back counties will give Davis an absolute majority over both competitors. Late returns show the House to be 89 Republicans, 62 fusion.

The returns from 204 towns give Davis 48,372 votes; Smith, Greenbacker, 24,129; Garcelon, Democrat, 18,658. Davis' majority over combined opposition 3,130. In the same towns last year the Fusionists had a majority of 4,495 over the Republican nominee. This shows a Republican gain of 7,625 votes in the towns heard from.

Last year the Republicans had nine majority in the Senate. In the House the Republicans had 66 and the opposition 85 members. Opposition majority on joint ballot, 10. It requires a majority vote of all the people to elect a Governor of Maine. If no candidate has a majority, the House nominates and the Senate elects the Governor. This year the Republicans have over 35 on joint ballot in the Legislature.

The election in California resulted in a victory for the Republicans. Perkins being elected Governor by a plurality of 25,000 votes. The Republicans elect a majority of all the offices, including the four Congressmen. Killoch, the workingmen's candidate is elected Mayor of San Francisco. The contest was an exciting one, and the result is one full of interest to the Republicans. It is the key-note of the campaign for next year, which promises to be the hottest ever known in the political canvass in this country; and which will be also one of the most important and the most interesting political fight ever before held.

SCAB IN CATTLE.—The West Live Animal Leader says: A number of cases of scab in cattle have been reported, and the question begins to be discussed as to the best remedy and what if any measures can be adopted by which it can be avoided. Some think it is identical the same disease which attacks sheep, and which it is said was prevalent among the buffalo. Peyton S. Jones informs us that he has used hamlock sheep dip very successfully on two bulls that were affected with scab. It would be interesting to have the views and experiments of other stock men on this subject.

While about 200 cattle were being driven across the Lawrence bridge Tuesday noon, on account of the crowding of the cattle on the north end, the span suddenly gave away, letting the cattle into the river. Six head were killed. A man, wagon, dog and two horses also went down. Result, one horse killed, one wagon gone, one man slightly hurt, and one dog badly scared. Loss estimated at $2,000. The cattle belonged to the Young brothers of Southern Kansas.

According to the Chicago Times, never before has trade been so good as this season, and in no previous year have Chicago merchants sold so many goods as thus far during 1879, and to-day the business interests of that city are in a better shape than at any previous time since the panic of 1873. The bountiful grain crops give assurance of a splendid fall trade in all lines of merchandise.

Mass. Gen. P. Russell & Co. report that since the July edition of the American Newspaper Directory appeared, twenty-two new newspapers have been established in the State of Kansas.

Prof. Tice predicts plenty of rain for September. Let it come.

A large party of settlers from Harrisburg, Penn., went out on the A. T. & S. F. road from Kansas City, Tuesday.

A number of land seekers from Canton, Ohio, went to Grandfield, on the Kansas Pacific Tuesday. So the fall immigration movement begins to boom.

Mr. Scott, of Pawnee county, raised 2,000 bushels of rice corn for feed, yielding sixty bushels to the acre. A man and boy with four horses to tread it out will thresh about three hundred bushels a day. It is as good feed for hogs and horses as corn.

The result in Maine wipes out the Greenback party from national politics, says the St. Louis Times-Journal. The fight next year will be unembarrassed by third parties. It will be a struggle between giants, and will settle the policy of the nation for a quarter of a century.

The Kansas City Times anticipated the result in California and Maine; and now its prophetic vision extends to a Republican victory in Ohio and New York. Dimensions in the Democratic party in New York will give that State to the Republicans. The Republican party is united in every State. A victory next year is foreshadowed.

It seems likely that there will be a coalition of the one Greenbacker of Ford county and the Globe faction. A county ticket will be put in the field headed Greenback fusion. Several names have been mentioned for the several offices, among which are Major Van Voorhis, Major Shinn, Major Frost, Judge Shinn, Judge Frost, Judge H. B. Van Voorhis, Gen. Frost, Gen. Van Voorhis, Gen. Shinn, and Major Frost, Shinn, and Gen. Van.

The immigration fever is assuming a practical form. The Commonwealth says Mr. Snow, the traveling agent of the Lead Department of the Kansas Pacific Railroad, was in Topeka, Monday. He had just returned from the east, where he has appointed many agents for the sale of K. P. lands. He says that there will be an immense immigration from the Eastern States to Kansas this fall. They are also coming from Canada, a good many men of means, that is, men with from $1,000 to $5,000 which to purchase land.

Kinsley Graphical.

The register at the Kinsley Hotel shows an increase in excursionists and home seekers.

From what our exchange says, we are satisfied that there is nothing Kinsley needs so bad as a union of a teacher's institute.

If you have anything valuable that can be carried off, lock up your house when you go out. Pillars are around.

There was on Tuesday three cars of wheat on the side-track, making in all the railroad company has shipped here to be sold to the settlers for seed, twelve cars. There are four more cars yet to come.

This is a curious country, or a curious lot of settlers in it. We have known men to come to town, argue for two hours that white beans wouldn't grow in this country, and then go right home and sow wheat for the next two weeks.

Hiram C. Hantz, who is herding cattle for Mr. Spring, one mile north of town, came upon nine rattlesnakes a few evenings since, one of which tried to bite him, and his dog in defending him was bitten and died before morning. John Hantz, with a shot gun, killed the nine snakes at three shots—arose at one shot, one with nine rattles at another, and one with seven rattles at the third shot.
